George Francis Train has imparted to an interested world the important information that it is now six years since he has shaken hands with a grown up man or woman, and that he feels the better for it.

The recent advances in wheat prices, in the face of the prospect that war in Europe may be deferred to next year, or even later, shows that there is a strong likelihood that prices of that cereal have touched their lowest point.

The experience of ex-Gov. Hoadly, of Ohio, as a bondman, is likely to prove a caution to other men who are called upon to become sureties for officials. He has just paid the sum of $62,500, almost the entire earnings of a long and laborious life, to make good in part the defalcation of an assignee.

The chief of the bureau of statistics reports that 40,041 immigrants arrived in the United States during September last, against 27,771 during September, 1885, and that for the first nine months of the present year they number 294,720 against 268,688 for the corresponding period of last year.

The Synod of New Jersey, speaking for 391 churches and elders, and 269 churches with 50,000 communicants, decided to petition the Legislature to enact a marriage license law. This action has been provoked by the law in Pennsylvania to evade which an increasing number of youthful couples go over into New Jersey to be married.

The increase of insanity among the blacks of the South shows a startling increase for each of the two decades that have passed since Prof. Sumpter was fired upon. The causation of this great increase of insanity among this race is being industriously sought for by the experts in insanity in the South.

The great change wrought in the condition of the negro by his transfer from slavery to freedom is accountable for most of the rapid increase. The official estimate of the population of the country at the close of the last fiscal year, now just made public, shows, as was to have been expected, no lessening in the rate of increase. As near as can be ascertained the population on the 30th of last June was about 11 per cent. larger than the census found it to be in 1880.

The time is approaching when the question of providing for the necessities of a dense population will be as pressing with us as it already is in Europe. The natural increase of fifty millions of people is enormous, and when there is added immigration from nearly all the civilized countries of the world, the problem becomes one of immediate interest, and renders the more recent subject of restraining within just and proper limits, the artificial increase caused by immigration.

Secretary Whitney states that the Navy Department has never received so many bids for the building of new ships as it has in the present proposals. The Secretary of the Navy will not ask for any authority of Congress to build any more cruisers at present until those he has in hand are finished. The Department is now engaged in building cruisers, gunboats and ironclads, so that when they are completed seven new vessels will be added to the Navy. The Secretary has also authorized to finish the monitors, and that will increase the list to eleven.

The southern states have once more been shaken up by earthquake. The shocks appear to have affected a larger area than has been disturbed since the great calamity of August 31, in which Charleston suffered so severely. Happily, no one so far as known at the present writing, has been injured, and the damage to property has been very slight. Summerville, S. C., is evidently the headquarters for earthquakes in this country. The shocks are more numerous and noisy there than in any other place, and would have been more destructive had there been as much to destroy as in Charleston.

The United States supreme court has just rendered another and the decision of great importance on the subject of interstate commerce. It was brought to the courts under the state law forbidding discrimination in freight rates. The defense was that the discriminating rate was made for transportation from a point in Illinois to New York, and so was beyond the jurisdiction of the state law. The court holds distinctly that a state has the right to regulate freight charges and railroad management within its limits, but that it cannot prescribe local rules for the regulation of the running through several states. The decision is plainly recognized, however, the right of Congress to regulate interstate commerce, and it is in this element that its chief force and bearing lies. The opinion by Justice Miller, Justice Bradley delivered a dissenting opinion, in which the chief justice and Justice Gray concurred. In this opinion it is conceded that Congress might, if it saw fit, regulate the matter under consideration, but not having done so, it is held that the state does not lose its power to regulate the charges of its own railroads in its own territory, simply because the goods or persons transported have been brought from or are destined to a point beyond the state borders.

RAILROAD HOLOCAUST.

The Limited Express from Chicago Goes Through an Open Switch Into a Stone Quarry.

The Cars Take Fire and Many Persons Helplessly Roasted to Death.

AN OPEN SWITCH. HORRIBLE DEATHS OF THE RAIL. PORTAGE, Wis., Special Telegram, Oct. 28.—Limited Train No. 37, Conductor L. H. Europe, was deferred to next year, or even later, shows that there is a strong likelihood that prices of that cereal have touched their lowest point.

THE FIRST THING I knew about the accident was that it was a terrible one. I was in the city at the time, and I saw the train as it passed. It was a limited express, and it was carrying a large number of passengers. The train was traveling from Chicago to Portage, and it was carrying a large number of passengers. Development of the Apache Outcasts to Warriors.

WE HAVE before us here the tiger of the human species. To no tribe in America can these remarks be applied with more force than to the Apaches of Arizona. To see them as they first appeared to the white men—half-civil, half-fierce, covered with vermin, with no semblance of property beyond the rude arms with which they doggedly waged war against ungiving nature—it was easy to believe, and many Americans did believe, that nothing could be more easily effected than their extermination or subjugation. It has taken the expenditure of countless treasure and blood to demonstrate that these naked Indians were the most thoroughly individual soldiers on the globe; that each was an army in himself, waiting for orders from no superior—thoroughly confident in his own judgment, and never at a loss to know when to attack or when to retreat. The Apache can be compared most aptly to the wild animal he fittingly calls his cousin, the coyote. The civilized settlements are his sheepfolds, and even supposing that a tollsome campaign results in destroying forty out of a band of fifty, the survivors are as much to be dreaded as ever, until the very last one can be driven down, killed or got under control, and taught to labor for his bread—General Crook, in the Military Magazine.

Merritt Melvin, member of the firm of Hartmann & Melvin, one of our most popular and respected fellow citizens, has been very ill with an attack of pneumonia, but we are pleased to learn that he is slowly but surely improving, and hope to see him out soon enjoying his wonted health.

At the funeral of the late George Mix, at Norwood a week ago Sunday, the following intimate friends of the deceased acted as pall bearers:
Geo. A. DuToit, Julius Ackermann, E. A. Taylor, C. G. Halgren, Jno. S. Nelson and W. P. Cash.

We understand that Geo. A. DuToit, has been appointed special administrator of the estate of the late George Mix.
That one dollar table lamp at Young's is a beauty, none like it ever sold for less than 1.75.

As the season is advancing and weather is warm, I am offering special inducements to clear out my large fall and winter stock. I have made special reductions on wool shawls, Hosiery, Hoods, wraps and nubias don't fail to call & examine prices. Chas. T. Young, Jno. Bierschell, has engaged D. Kerker, as manager and clerk in his store and sample room, and his many friends rejoice that he is to remain with us. John is also to be congratulated on his good luck.

Herman Steinhaus, a pupil at the public school left Thursday, Nov. 4th, and dislocated his elbow joint. It was reduced under chloroform, and he is doing well now. Dr. Bowers, is the attending physician.

Farmers Need It.
There is not the exchange of ideas among the farmers there should be, yet the opportunity is offered every farmer in the Northwest to impart and receive suggestions, experiences and results by becoming a reader of the Farm, Stock and Home, of Minneapolis, and writing for its columns. This paper and the HERALD sent for one year to all who pay in advance for $1.50.

For Sale.
One pair 24 inch French burr mill stones set in iron frame, with shafting, pulleys and elevator complete to attach to stationary or threshing engine will grind from 15 to 20 bushels of feed per hour and do good work—will be sold cheap.

Farm For Sale.
I will sell at public auction, a farm containing 69 acres of land, known as the Fred Held farm situated in sect. 4, Waconia, on Thursday, November 18, 1886.

Dime Sociable.
A Dime Sociable will be held at the residence of Mr. & Mrs. A. W. Barker, Friday evening Nov. 12, 1886, to which all are cordially invited.

Norwood Exposition.
In my last weeks notice I said to you that I had a number of bargains left for your acceptance and more to follow—this week I have placed at your disposal 25 single coats in sizes from 35 to 37, at the uniform price of $2, for each coat this you will know is about the price of a good wool shirt, but no matter, the goods must be sold, at 30 mens wool suits ranging in price from $13, to $18, now from $9 to $13, these suits are first class in every respect, but only two or three of a kind left out of dozen lots, and those left must follow the balance. While looking at these suits don't forget to examine my large stock of mens, youths and boys overcoats. I have them in all styles—beautiful quilted linings, handwarming pockets, fur collars—regular blizzard protectors, if you don't need the goods to-day, you will soon, for summer weather will not last all winter, in Minnesota. By the way did you examine my large stock of ladies wraps? They are perfect fitting, tailor made, very choice styles, and the prices all right, and sure to please you. My second car of apples are now in large three bushel barrels, choice hand picked fruit—bear in mind, I have no competitors in size of stock, freshness of goods or low prices,
JAMES SLOCUM Jr.

Married
Theodore Mertz to Miss Katie Hartz, at St. Mark's Church, Thursday, Oct. 28th, at 4 o'clock a. m., Rev. P. Jeram officiating. About 75 guests were present. The presents were numerous and useful. Mr. and Mrs. Mertz will make their future home in Chaska.—SHAKOPEE ARMS.

A Card
In trouble, the cold comforts of the indifferent only sting to deeper sorrow, but the consolations of friends are as "apples of gold in a picture of silver."
In their affliction Mrs. George Mix and daughter Lola have been greatly comforted by the ministrations of friends, and desire to extend their sincere thanks to all who have remembered and helped them, in their sorrow.
MRS. GEORGE MIX.
LOLA A. MIX.

A Disastrous Fire.
We learn from neighbors that the residence of John Colbert, in the town of Hancock, burned to the ground on Friday evening of last week. The building was enveloped in flames before it was discovered and the family barely escaped with their lives. Mr. Colbert lost everything, furniture and wearing apparel included, and without insurance on either building or contents.
The loss is a severe one to Mr. C., and he has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in his misfortune.

Disolution of Co-Partnership.
The disolution of Co-Partnership heretofore existing by and between the undersigned of this day mutually dissolved by the retirement of Anton Westrel. All debts due by the firm will be settled by Frank Westrel who continues the business, and all accounts should be paid to Frank Westrel at the old stand. Dated Waconia, September 6, 1886.

McGill Elected.
The returns from the different counties are all in, and they elect McGill by about 2,400 majority. Two years ago Blaine, carried Minnesota by over 41,000 majority, so that Ames although defeated, can feel proud in having reduced that majority down to almost nothing. Had Ames had time to visit the 2d district, there is no doubt he would have been successful, as he carried everything where ever he went.

Our farmers and laborers should remember that we furnish the Herald and that excellent farm and family journal, the FARM, STOCK & HOME, for only $1.50, but it must be paid strictly in advance. Col. Jno. H. Stevens, is the editor of the above paper.

John Beierstetel has put in an immense stock of goods for the holidays. His store is packed full from one end to the other. All those that are in want of goods in that line would do well to call at his place before purchasing elsewhere. He can suit you in goods and prices.

We are in receipt of a letter and a number of papers from Hernando County, Florida, from J. A. Salter, formerly a resident of Lake town, and well known to all of our old settlers. Mr. S. says he is well pleased with his new home, and thinks Florida is the finest country in the world. We return our thanks for the papers.

A Regular Blizzard.
It commenced snowing Tuesday evening, and a regular "blizzard" set in during the night, and continued with unabated fury until Thursday morn'g. Blocking the Railroads and wagon roads most effectually, and we were unable to go to press until this Saturday afternoon, on account of the non arrival of our paper. At the present writing the storm has subsided.

Mike is one of the old settlers of this County and has a host of friends who will rejoice to learn that he has finally concluded to join the ranks of the Benedictines, and wish him much joy.

Dahlgren Items.
Farmers are all through with their plowing, and all their fall work is unusually advanced.

Our friend Wm. Freukes returned from St. Paul, where he was paying his daughter a visit. He says he enjoyed himself very much. City life is all right, still there is no place like home.

There are to be wedding bells, and quite plentiful too.

About 25 young people went to the house of Michael Preiss, and gave him a surprise on Monday evening, Nov. 13th, it being his 64th birthday. Mr. P. was taken quite unawares, but when comprehending, made a bee line for his cellar, and fed the party on the fat of the land. The hosts health was drank quite a number of times. At 11 o'clock the party started for home; they all enjoyed themselves very much and voted to surprise Mr. Preiss again on his 65 birthday.

The demand for black walnut has pretty nearly cleared out this wood in the forests of the North, but almost incredible quantities are said to have been discovered in Tennessee and Arkansas. It also abounds still further South.

It is to be noted that while the oleomargarine makers say their sales are increasing under the new law, the dairymen of the Middle States are making the same claims regarding their butter. Thus each party must be satisfied, and everything is quite correct.

With about 1,700,000 bushels of corn, 163,000 bushels of potatoes, 485,000 pounds of tobacco and 45,000,000 tons of hay, Uncle Sam ought not to look forward to the winter months with much fear. This is what the latest returns of the agricultural bureau give us.

It is stated that the Pennsylvania railroad people have under consideration a rather unexpected plan for the acquisition of the controlling interest in the stock of the Chicago and North-western system of railroads. The Pennsylvania company's surplus of $100,000,000, it is said, is being used for this purpose.

The commissioner of agriculture has been notified by Chemist Wiley that by the diffusion process he secured an average of 1200 pounds of sugar per ton from eighty-three tons of Louisiana cane. It is claimed that the old process would only have yielded eighty pounds to the ton. This is regarded by the authorities at the agricultural department as the fulfillment of the promise of important results given by the first incomplete experiments in the diffusion process as applied to sugar cane.

A despatch from Ottawa, Ont., tells of "a premonition of death fulfilled." A middle-aged man told a clerk that he was going to die within twenty hours, and asked the clerk how much he would pay him. He also said he had a policy on his life for $10,000, and offered it to the clerk for $25. The sale was not perfect, and the man visited a building which he was having erected upon an upper story, fell through an opening in the floor and died. There were not a few who will work upon this "a premonition fulfilled."

Gen. Gordon's inaugural address as Governor of Georgia the other day is noteworthy for the frank confession of a thoroughly confused, angry, and angry man of the fact that the issue of the civil war was a great blessing to the South. "In the last quarter of our national life," he said, "a guiding providence has overruled for the South's good, as we trust, those sectional dissensions which were inevitable from dissimilar and conflicting institutions providentially established on this continent. From political confusion, angry controversies, and bloody contentions have come a national life more robust, a national peace more real, and a national union more enduring."

The legality of the boycott was involved for the first time in Massachusetts in a trial at Plymouth, of Peter McGough of Lynn and Wm. B. O'Keefe of Salem, both prominent Knights of Labor. An indictment against them charges that an agent of Charles Harrington & Co. was in Plymouth on June 10th last, and that the defendants attempted to prevent a man from buying leather of the agent by means of threats of boycotting. Gen. Butler for the defense moved to quash the indictment, citing the destruction of the Boston harbor as a precedent for the action of the Justice Department. Gen. Butler's motion and showed that boycotting was a conspiracy interdicted by the laws of the State.

The cable, in announcing the suicide of the famous English jockey, Frederick Archer, was careful to announce that he was suffering from delirium at the time, probably from typhoid fever. It was explained that the disease took hold of his system because he had violated a very simple commandment. It seems that his normal weight in health was 145 pounds, but he had adopted a diet and mode of life which reduced him to the mere scrawny figure of 112 pounds. That is to say, he stunted nature of 33 pounds of tissue, which he demanded for the perfect fulfillment of his duties, and that nature lost little time in avenging the wrong done, as she most certainly will every time. The case has a manifest interest for a great many people who are trying to reduce obesity by the starvation process.

The fate of the leaders of the Honduras insurrection is tinged with the spirit which has characterized the revolution since its beginning. A knight to lay down his life while displaying the noblest sense of honor. Gen. Delgado, the prime leader of the unsuccessful expedition, whose wife had interceded for his life, was offered pardon on the condition that he should not engage in another armed insurrection in Honduras. Apparently devoted to his cause, he sent back a cutting reply to President Bogran, who had all along sought means by which he could save the condemned man, and yet leave the authority of the government intact. But when the unrepentant rebel had refused a pardon which should make him disgraced, the only alternative was to execute the death sentence. Standing by their rifles the four fatal men appeared the pictures of self-composure, and General Delgado was permitted, at his request, to give the order for the execution of himself and his comrades.
